CUT IN WAR EXPENSES

Senator Martin Announces Step to be Taken by Congress.

Senator Martin, of Virginia, Democratic leader in the Senate, said yesterday that Congress will call on the executive departments of the government to curtail war expenses immediately upon the signing of an armistice by Germany. He also said that the War Department will be asked to stop calling men into the military service as soon as the war ends.

Senator Martin declared that appropriations for war purposes in the last two years have aggregated $57,000,000,000, and that he is deeply concerned over the effect the expenditures are having upon the country.

Leaders of both parties share his view, and added that he soon would have something to say in the Senate on the necessity for curtailing government expenses after the armistice is signed.

Extravagance in war expenditures is admitted by Democratic leaders the senator asserted, but it has been justified on the ground that it has been necessary in order to guard against having troops in the field inadequately equipped with ammunition, food and clothes.

The Democratic leader declared his opposition to universal military training, saying it would lead to continued heavy expenses for cantonments and other war necessities in peace times.

One method of curtailment of war costs suggested by the Virginia senator was reduction in the number of clerks employed in Washington, and abandonment of the construction of housing for purely war activities.

Senator Martin said he recently had been informed by Housing Commissioner Eidlitz that it is the intention to curtail this construction.

Remember that after the "Mud and Muck of the Trenches," the United War Work Campaign Huts are 'A Bit of Paradise to the Sad, Tired Soldiers!"

CITY SCHOOL BOARD MET LAST NIGHT

The regular meeting of the City School Board was held last night. Eight members present.

Two of the recently elected members, Messrs. W. F. H. Finke and Jas. Bayne, appeared and took their seats. The committee on school houses and furniture reported that furnaces in the school buildings had been overhauled and repaired and put in good order; also that the cellars had been cleaned and white washed.

The loss of a month's time, due to influenza, was discussed, and it was thought best to make up this time by cutting out or shortening the usual holidays. However, Thanksgiving will be observed, as it should be especially appropriate at this time.

A special committee was named to take up the matter with council concerning salaries and the school fund.

It is the desire of the board for the school nurse and truant officer to be entirely under the direction of the school board.

The old officers were re-elected as follows: F. M. Bradshaw, chairman, Mr. T. C. Howard, vice chairman, and Gilbert Cox, Clerk.

The superintendent was authorized to have proper notices printed to send to the parents of children who should attend school under the cumpulsory attendance law passed by the last legislature. It will be the duty of the truant officer to look out for children between 8 and 12 not now in the schools and bring the matter to the attention of the school officers, so the law may be enforced.

The weather has been below zero for several days. Walter Shields, Nome superintendent of the United State government bureau of education, was one of those who have died.

Many Eskimos were found frozen to death when their cabins were broken into by relief workers. Seventy soldiers at Fort Davis, near here, were taken ill.

REVOLT IN GERMANY

Navy and Most of Schleswig Under The Red Flag Workmen and Soldiers' Council Issue Proclamation.—To Suppress Revolution at Kiel.

London, Nov. 8.—The entire German Navy and a great part of Schleswig is in the hands of revolutionists, according to reports received in Copenhagen from Kiel. Kiel is governed by the mariners, soldiers and workers council. All the workshops have been occupied by red troops. The street car lines and railways are under the control of the workmen's council. There have been no disturbances.

After a conference between Secretary of State Haussmann and Deputy Noske and the Workmen and Soldiers' Council, the following proclamation was issued:

"Comrades—For the first time political power is in the hands of the soldiers. Great work lies before us.

"But in order that its realization can take place the organization of our movement was necessary. We have formed a council of workmen and soldiers and it will be responsible for the preservation of order."

The following points were passed by the council.

"First—Secretary Haussmann will take care that the demands of the Workmen and Soldiers' Council shall be forwarded to the Reichstag.

"Second—The immediate cessation of all military measures directed against the movement of the council.

"Third—The navy has been ordered to leave the harbor.

"Fourth—Military prisoners to be released.'

A number of German garrisons on the south Baltic coast have deserted and are going to Kiel says a Copenhagen dispatch. The red flag has been hoisted at Warnemunde, a seaport of Northern Germany, and the port of Rostock, on the Baltic Sea coast.

The German authorities have decided to suppress the revolution at Kiel, according to a dispatch from Copenhagen to the Exchange Telegraph Company. Several thousand soldiers from Fehmarn Island have been ordered to Kiel, The Workmen and Soldiers' Council, these advices state, has decided to make a stubborn resistance.

Washington, Nov. 8.—An official dispatch received here yesterday quotes the Frankfort Zeitung as saying rioting in Kiel began last Sunday, after a meeting at which independent Socialists spoke. Subsequently sailors from the fleet and workmen from the Kiel arsenal joined in an effort to deliver by force the sailors of the Third German squadron who had been imprisoned for refusing to obey orders. There were several encounters with the police in which 3 persons were killed and 20 wounded. The newspapers say a crowd of sailors and workmen moved through the town, calling upon all sailors and workmen in the saloons and coffee houses on the way to join them. Military patrols in the town were disarmed and it was indicated that the Governor of Kiel, to prevent further bloodshed, received delegates from the crowd and ordered the release of the sailors.

A dispatch from Kiel to the Frankfort Zeitung is given as follows:

"In the afternoon two long corteges at the head of which were the released sailors of the Third squadron, walked through the town and red flags were unfurled. The crowd then went to the railway station to meet State Secretary Haussmann and Deputy Nosko, who had been sent to Kiel by the Government.

Copenhagen, Nov. 8.—A revolt has broken out in Hamburg, according to a dispatch from the correspondent of the Politiken at Vamdrup. Violent artillery firing was in progress in the streets of the city when the correspondent's indormant was deported, the latter declared.

Travellers arriving at Gedser, the correspondent adds, report serious riots at several other places in Germany, the demonstrants demanding peace. Artillery fighting was heard Wednesday in the direction of Kiel.

London, Nov. 8.—The Wolff Bureau of Berlin announces that all work has stopped at Hamburg owing to a strike and that undisciplined acts and outrages have taken place. The news agency reports similar occurrences from Luebeck.

Altona, across the river from Hamburg, and Flensburg, to the northeast, are reported within the power of revolutionary soldiers. The airdrome at Apenrade, in North Schleswig, has been occupied and the airmen there placed under arrest.

Stockholm, Nov. 8.—Continuous demonstrations are taking place in Berlin, according to the Social Demokraten Twenty thousand deserters from the army are marching through the streets of the capital.

LOSES FORTUNE TO FIGHT

Young German, in American Army, Breaks With Family.

Atlantic City, Nov. 8.—Through his enlistment as a private in the United States forces Hans Weiderhold, nephew of Henry Weiderhold, formerly a prominent Philadelphia contractor, and now a resident of Atlantic City, has not only broken with his people, the majority of whom reside in Germany, but has also forfeited his right to a large fortune, of which he would have been the sole heir.

Young Weiderhold came from Hesse-Cassel, Germany, four years ago. His father is a distinguished physician in Germany and the head of a famous institution for the treatment of nervous diseases in Cassel. Had young Weiderhold remained in Germany he would have been appointed an officer at the outbreak of the war. Soon after his enlistment he contracted pneumonia at Camp Lewis, Washington, where he was attached to the 73d Infantry, and his condition for a time was critical. He is now out of danger nad hopes upon his recovery to resume his military duties.

GERMANY GIVEN 72 HOURS TO CONSIDER ARMISTICE

PERMANENT SUSPENSION OF HOSTILITIES REFUSED BY ALLIED COMMANDER

Germany will have a maximum of seventy-two hours to send the armistice agreement to Berlin for ratification.

This was officially announced by the State Department today, in conjunction with issuance of the news that the allied delegates were in conference with the German plenipotentiaries.

Parleys began at 9 a. m. Paris time, which was 4 o'clock Washington time this morning.

It is considered possible that the enemy envoys will not request the time limit allowed to submit their decision to Berlin, but may sign it immediately.

The German delegation is invested with full power to not only sign the armistice, but to open further peace negotiations, according to reports from Berlin.

President Wilson personally will tell the people of the country that Germany has accepted the allied armistice terms when that action takes place, it was officially announced from the White House today. Secretary to the President Joseph P. Tumulty said this morning that the President will not hold anything back, but that the moment he can do so he will issue a statement to the people telling them officially that the war is over.

It is understood here that the allied governments will agree on a plan for a simultaneous announcement of the action of the German armistice delegates who now are conferring with Field Marshal Foch.

Text of Conditions is Read to Delegates

Paris, Nov. 8.—The German delegates arrived this morning at Marshal Foch's headquarters and are reported positively to have asked for an armistice.

The text of the allies' conditions was read aloud and then handed to the enemy delegates. The latter asked immediate suspension of fighting, which was refused.

The Germans, it is stated, have seventy-two hours in which to reply.

The enemy representatives arrived at the meeting place designated by Foch last night and spent the night in a house which had been prepared for them there. They proceeded to Foch's temporary headquarters—probably in the Department of the Aisne—this morning.

Admiral Wilson Assume Blame

Brest, France, Nov. 8.—Rear Admiral Henry B. Wilson, U. S. N., commander of the American forces in French waters, today made the following statement:

"The statement of the United Press relative to the signing of the armistice was made public from my office on the basis of what appeared to be official and authoritative information.

"I am in a position to know that the United Press and its representative acted in perfect good faith, and that the premature announcement was the result of an error, for which the agency was in no wise responsible."

Kaiser Expected to Give Up Throne Tomorrow

London, Nov. 8.—The Kaiser will abdicate tomorrow, according to the newspaper Politken, published in Copenhagen, said an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from here today. The dispatch added that majority of the parties in Berlin had unanimously decided to demand the Kaiser's resignation.

London, Nov. 8.—The Agencia Libra announces that the Kaiser is willing to resign if all other reigning sovereigns and princes abdicate simultaneously, according to a Central News Agency.

RICHMOND THEATRE

There are few characterizations in motion picture which have achieved more enduring renown than the "Carmen" of Geraldine Farrar, in the picture of that name released by the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation and to be shown at the Richmond tonight.

This is an unusually strong story filled with love, intrigue, smugglers, bull fighters and other elements that tend to make it one of extreme interest to the average motion picture theatre-goer.

The picture is one filled with thrills and unusual heart appeal. Miss Farrar is admirably supported throughout by an excellent staff of players, chief among whom are Wallace Reid, Pedro de Corboba and others.

Fatty Arbuckle, in a Keystone comedy, also will be offered.

BEGIN TO DISBAND CREEL COMMITTEE

George Creel has issued a statement saying he is "commencing absolute discontinuance "of the work of the Committee on Public Information."

Creel said: "As far as the Committee on Public Information is concerned, the cessation of hostilities will mark the close of the war. When the news is confirmed, I mean to discontinue the domesctic work of the committee as rapidly as possible.

WANTON DESTRUCTION

Retreating Germans Leave Evacuated Districts Treeless, Waste Reserves Used Up.

With the American Army on the Sedan Front, Nov. 8.—In their retreat east of the Meuse the Germans, according to reports reaching American headquarters, are destroying property and cutting down trees along the roadways. American aviators reported today that the highway from Stenay northward to Olizy-sur-Chiers is blocked every few yard by trees across the road. The destruction begins just beyond Stenay an dextends northeast and north from one to three miles.

As an indicator of the plight of the retreating Germans, it is known that on the entire western front the enemy has in reserve only one division which has been out of the battle one month, and four divisions which have been resting from two to four weeks. Two of the divisions are east of the Meuse.

The Germans, it is believed, have used all their reserves on the front opposite the Americans, the last enemy division in reserve on this sector having been thrown back in the desperate effort to stem the Americans.

CONFLICTING REPORTS

Dispatches Tell of Cessation of Fighting While Communiques Tell of Continued Allies' Advance—News it is Believed Held up by Censors

Since yesterday at noon only the briefest censored dispatches have been allowed transmission over the Trans-Atlantic cables. These dispatches are conflicting in their reports on one hand of a cessation of fighting and on the other of communiques telling of continued allied advances.

A delayed cablegram this morning confirmed dispatches last night that an order had been given for cessation of firing at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

There has been no news today of negotiations after the delegates reached the allied lines. The only logical explanation is that this is being held up by censors.

It was assumed last night when confirmatory reports were lacking that the censors had held up news of the armistice, in order to give Germany time to adjust her police and military for an announcement to the people. It is reasonable to assume that, in such case, the soldiery on the front would not be permitted to obtain an inkling of the agreement by cessation of active warfare.

Washington, Nov. 8.—The State Department announced officially at 1:30 o'clock last night that it had had no notification that the armistice had been signed. Secretary Baker said: "The minute the War Department has any authoritative news on the subject of peace, I will give it out at once."

New York, Nov. 8.—At 6 p. m., New York time, Universal Service was in receipt of these cable dispatches from Paris and London:

"Paris, 4 p. m.—The German armistice delegates have arrived at Marshal Foch's headquarters."

"Paris, 5 p. m.—The Paris afternoon papers relating to the armistice question show evidences of having been censored. Meanwhile, various rumors are current.

"London 5:50 p. m.—No news has been received here since the German parlementaires crossed into the French line.

"It is pointed out here (London) that the recent pourparlers between Gen. Diaz and the Austrians took some days. The negotiations at Brest-Litovsk preceding the Russo-German armistice lasted three days. It would seem that the present negotiations would take equally long."

London, Nov. 8.—The German armistice delegates arrived at the fortress of Metz Wednesday night. They notified Marshal Foch of their arrival. Foch in reply sent a wireless message to the German high command as follows:

"If the German plenipotentiaries wish to see me to ask for an armistice, they are to advance by the Chimay-Fourmies-la-Capelle Guise road. Orders have been given to the effect that they shall be received and conducted to a place fixed for the interview."

At noon the German parlementaires crossed into the French lines at Guise (the great railway base northeast of St. Quentin recently captured by the French) to receive the terms.

The correspondent understands the terms are very severe.

The German chancellor, Prince Max of Baden, in a proclamation issued Wednesday, said the German delegates had been "charged to conclude an armistice and open negotiations for peace." The proclamation stated that President Wilson's note had been received Wednesday.

Prince Max added that "peace negotiations and armistice now find themselves joined."

Both here and in Paris the appeal of the German chancellor was interpreted as meaning that troubles of grave character have broken out in Germany making an armistice an absolute necessity.

One Paris newspaper, L'Heure, said, however, that it was not believed in diplomatic circles in Switzerland that Germany would immediately accept the armistice conditions, but rather that the chancellor would submit them to a secret session of the Reichstag.

A recuperative diet in influenza, Horlick's Malted Milk, very digestible.

PREMATURE REJOICING

Alexandria was not the only place upon the globe which gave vent to rejoicing yesterday afternoon and last night. The dispatches from London announcing that the Germans had signed the allies' armistice articles were heralded around the world. France was painted red last night, as was also Londan, and the joy which was in the air was in evidence throughout the night. While official Washington had not received confirmation of the reports, it was evident that although the articles of the armistice may not have been signed, there was much to give foundation for the belief that an agreement had been reached between the belligerents.

There was disappointment this morning when the papers failed to confirm last night's reports, but in reading between the lines it seemed plain that the heads of the allied nations have something up their sleeves.

The commissioners have ere this article shall have been read met and the announcement of an agreement is likely to be sprung upon the world at any time.

A large percentage of the population of Alexandria visited Washington yesterday afternoon and last night for the purpose of mingling with the merrymakers in the capital city.

After the announcement of the capitulation it was impossible to keep men and women at their desks in the various departments, and about three o'clock holiday was declared in most places. Many of those employed hired sight-seeing automobiles and arming themselves with flags rode about the city.

Many affecting scenes were witnessed. Smiles and tears mingled and all conventionalities were cast aside, men and women previously unknown to each other manifested familiarity in interchanging expressions of joy.

The dispatch, which came from Paris to this country shortly after noon yesterday, stated that the Allies and Germany signed an armistice at 11 o'clock yesterday morning, and that the war officially came to an end at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

A dispatch from Brest, France, several hours after the bulletin from Paris stated that the news of the signing of the armistce was received in Brest yesterday afternoon, and that the city went wild. Further, it stated that the American soldiers at that port were kissed and cheered by the population.

It was stated that the message announcing the signing of the armistice and the cessation of hostilities was filed in Paris considerably later than a message to the State Department saying that the armistice had not been signed.

Despite the announcement late yesterday by Secretary of State Lansing and Secretary of War Baker, the American government had no official confirmation of the cabled press report that Germany had signed the military armistice proposed by the Allies, Washington and Government officials are expecting official news at any hour that the Teuton envoys have agreed to the terms and hostilities have ceased.

A well-founded belief prevails that the armistice has been signed and official confirmation is being held by the censors in Europe until all the belligerent powers can be notified. The news of the signing of the armistice reached Washington through a cabled report sent by Roy W. Howard, president of the United Press Association, who has put across some of the best "beats" of the war. He is the man who first gave the world the news of the landing of American troops at Vera Cruz. Among newspaper correspondents who know Howard, the opinion is that he had arranged a secret method of communication by which he flashed the signing of the armistice through the military censors in Europe.

SETTLING DAY HAS COME

The Allies did not go into this war to make money out of it as Germany did. For years before the war German writers were speculating about the amount of money that could be extorted from France. As soon as the first gun was fired the dominant topic of conversation in Berlin was the indemnity that could be obtained and the immense increase of national prosperity that was assured. And at various times during the war Germans, individually and collectively, have discussed the wealth of England, France and the United States which would be transferred to Germany.

The Allies have had no thought of making money out of the war, but wanton and groundless destruction will have to be paid for, and the proceeds of robbery will have to be disgorged.

Germany knows it must pay the bill, and its loud and greedy proclamations of what it would take from the Allies after it had crushed them will make any remonstrance or protest on its part contemptible.

The huge sums extorted from Belgian cities had not the shadow of justification in the laws of civilized warfare. They were pure plunder, and they will have to be restored. The furniture, libraries and works of art, pianos and silverware, taken from the residents of the occupied territory in both France and Belgium, will have to be paid for. The destruction of houses and orchards and forests, not incidental to military operations, but committed in execution of an avowed policy of frightfulness, will have to be indemnified.

Germany expected to get rich out of this war. It will emerge poorer than it yet realizes. It may have to repudiate its domestic debt, or defer it for many years. But it will have to make all the reparation that money can effect, or the Allied armies will go to Berlin, to collect the indemnities. We know how France was treated in 1871, and how Belgium has been treated for four years. Settling day has arrived.

REAPING THE WHIRLWIND

If the Kaiser financed the Russian revolution, then the Bolsheviki are now reaping. This is what the pound interest. This is what the political refugees from Russia and the Central Empires now in this country are saying.

Having silently, though confidently, waited for months for the rising of the people of the Teutonic powers against their military oppressors, all the pent up feelings have now been loosed and they are celebrating the downfall of the Hapsburg and the Hohenzollerns.

Scenes at Hamburg, Berlin, Schleswig and other places in Germany show the people of that nation are reaping that which they have sown.

Germany's financial system has been wrecked by the Junkers—it is on a paper basis—and Austria is worse off. German paper currency is as valuable as Russian paper rubles. The formation of workmen's and soldiers' councils is almost a certainty. Conditions are ripe for revolution of the most extreme type.

My informants say that the abdication of the two Kaisers will be followed by the setting up of republics corresponding to the Miloukoff regime in Russia. The formation of all-socialist governments may be expected to follow demands by the workers nad returned soldiers which cannot be met. Whether a Liebknecht shall play the part of Lenine; whether, perhaps, our own East Side in New York may produce another Trotsky; whether Bolshevism shall overthrow orderly government in the new republics depends upon what action the Allies take.

VIRGINIA NEWS

W. L. Whitehurst, a carpenter, foreman, and Rowland E. Darling, chief time checker at the army engineering depot, at Norfolk, were arrested Wednesday night by agents of the Department of Justice, charged with systematically defrauding the government by means of padded payrolls. Officers of the department went at other arrests in a few hours in connection with the alleged conspiracy. No statement was given out regarding the amount of money involved. The method used in defrauding the government, according to the agents who investigated the alleged conspiracy, was the addition of dummy names to scores of pay rolls submitted to Col. G. E. Humphries, commander in charge of the depot. Whitehurst was released on bail, but Darling is still in custody.

Relatives in Winchester have been notified that Corporal J. C. Beatty, Jr., of Bluemont, has been killed in action in France. He was 24 years old. He left Camp Lee with a contingent some months ago.

Mrs. A. Waring, 304 N. Patrick St., says: "I suffered awfully from backache and inflammation of the bladder. I used to be in such misery during these attacks I had to have injections of morphine to relieve the pain. The pains in the top and back of my head nearly drove me frantic. I often got so dizzy I could hardly keep from falling. Nothing did me any good until I got Doan's Kidney Pills at E. S. Leadbeater & Son's Drug Store. Several boxes stopped that awful pain in my back and head and made my kidneys normal."

NEWS OF THE DAY

On the face of virtually complete unofficial returns last night Lieut. Commander Truman H. Newberry, Republican, has been elected to the United States Senate over Henry Ford, Democrat, in Michigan, by a majority of approximately 8,500.

With only six districts missing throughout the state of New York, the unofficial plurality of Alfred E. Smith, Democrat, over Gov. Chas. S. Whitman, Republican, in the gubernatorial race was 11,064. The figures were: Smith, 989,212: Whitman, 978,148.

Secretary James B. Reynolds, of the Republican National Committee, in charge of the Washington headquarters of the party organization last night made public the first detailed tabulation of the new political alignment of the House of Representatives based upon a last minute canvass of the election returns. The Republicans officially claim 238 members as against 188 Democrats, 1 Socialist, 1 Independent and 6 doubtful districts, making a total of 435, the full voting strength of the House. In the turnover of Tuesday the Republicans, according to their calculations, made a gain of 40 members and lost 12, the net gain being 28.

"I have seen hundreds of British wounded, who had been taken prisoner, die in the German hospitals for lack of food," a sister of St. John's Military Hospital, at Le Quesnoy, said yesterday. The sister, who served as a nurse throughout the long enemy occupation of the town, welcomed the New Zealand troops who first entered the place, crying "Don't show the Germans any mercy!" In telling her story afterward the sister said it was impossible for her to obtain enough food to keep her patients alive.

New prices on anthractie coal to absorb the recent increase in anthracite wages were announced by the Fuel Administration yesterday. At the same time special orders were issued to guard against an increase in price to the public on any coal of the grades affected, which had been mined previous to the wage increase. All the penalty of the Lever act will be invoked against profiteers who raise prices on coal whose cost of production was not affected by the wage increase. The actual increase of cost on the basis of the wage increase is figured by the Fuel Administration at 74 cents a ton.

Amsterdam dispatches quote the German chancellor, Prince Max of Baden, as saying, in an appeal to the German people to refrain from disturbances and indiscipline. "The allied armistice terms have been presented and thus a condition precedent to peace and armistice negotiations has been created." This is generally taken here as meaning German acceptance of the allied terms. The chancellor says in his appeal that riots and disoredr "might jeopardize the successful course of the armistice negotiations."

Legislation to guide the country back into peace production and provide for the reabsorption of its man power into industry is practically ready for introduction in Congress now. It will provide for a continuation of the activities now centered in the War Industries Board, War Trade Board, Food and Fuel Administrations and various labor boards and for a continuation of the necessary authority in the hands of the President

Pay the Easy Way — ON CREDIT — Pay the Easy Way

You can't make your money go any greater distance if you've got to lay it all out as soon as you get it. When you shop at the cash stores on a 30 day charge it isn't always so easy to raise the amount necessary to pay bill. The first month rolls past sooner than you realize. But when you pay a dollar or two, or just what you can spare each week or each payday, like you do on a FARLEY charge account, the first of the month never bothers you. Your bill at the Farley becomes paid by gradual liquidation in the way you never miss the outlay.

We give you this wonderful accommodation free of cost. By the means that we guarantee and give you prices same as the cash stores. Look at our sales. See how we undersell the cash stores time and again. Isn't that proof enough. Don't class us with the regular installment houses. We are different.

We don't try to get all we can, but strive to see how close we can cut margins and still make a successful profit.

PAY JUST A LITTLE DOWN EACH WEEK--THAT'S ALL.

You Must Do The Talking

The telephone system can carry your voice, or another voice to you, but it can not talk or hear for you.

When the operator at the central office has connected your telephone with another, she has canceled the distance between the caller and the person called; but clear speaking, attentive listening and mutual courtesy are in order if the ensuing conversation is to be satisfactory.

In the Bell System there is untiring effort to give satisfactory service, but the cooperation of the public is always necessary.
